UCSF Benioff Children's Hospitals is the new name of the affiliated hospitals, UCSF Benioff Children's Hospital and Children's Hospital & Research Center Oakland. Each hospital also has a new name – UCSF Benioff Children's Hospital San Francisco, and UCSF Benioff Children's Hospital Oakland.

The partnership promises to provide better health care value and more coordinated access to care on both sides of the San Francisco Bay.

Combined impact of the two hospitals:

- Top 10 largest children’s health care providers in the country when the UCSF Benioff Children’s Hospital opens in Mission Bay in 2015
- Largest children’s medical provider in Northern California
- Health care provided to an estimated 500,000 covered children
- 23 locations throughout Northern California
- 800+ pediatricians and pediatric specialists delivering specialized care daily
- 65+ different pediatric medical specialties and subspecialties, including transplant, sickle cell, orthopedics, neurology, cardiology, and asthma and diabetes care
