

UCSF Medical Center at Mission Bay: Timeline

2000: Following California's seismic safety law, UCSF begins process of identifying a site and clinical programs for a brand new campus.

May 2007: UC Regents approve fundraising campaign for UCSF Medical Center at Mission Bay.

September 2008: UC Regents approve design, budget and environmental plans for UCSF Medical Center at Mission Bay.

October 2010: Groundbreaking ceremony to celebrate a future "iconic landmark of health care, built from the ground up with care and compassion."

October 2011: Topping out ceremony in which the last bar of steel is placed atop UCSF Medical Center at Mission Bay.

December 2012: Exterior "skin" of the building and a rooftop helipad - a first for San Francisco - is completed.

July 2013: "Rough in," or preliminary work, is completed on levels one through four.

August 2014: Construction finalized, on schedule and under budget.

September 2014 to January 2015: Equipment installed and tested to ensure hospitals are ready for service.

On February 1, 2015, one of the nation's premier medical centers opened the doors of a new world-class facility.

UCSF Medical Center has opened three state-of-the-art hospitals at UCSF's Mission Bay campus, where top clinicians have joined expert researchers to develop next-generation therapies and cures.

April 2015

February 1, 2015

UCSF Medical Center at Mission Bay is open. One of the nation's premier medical centers now includes UCSF Benioff Children's Hospital San Francisco, UCSF Bakar Cancer Hospital, UCSF Betty Irene Moore Women's Hospital and UCSF Ron Conway Family Gateway Medical Building.