Dear neighbor:

UCSF has canceled the November construction update meeting because there are no significant updates since our last quarterly meeting. The next construction update meeting will be held on February 7, 2018.

In the meantime, here's the current status of some ongoing and upcoming campus projects:

Clinical Sciences Building

We anticipate that construction for the Clinical Sciences Building Retrofit and Renovation project will resume in January 2018, but neighbors may notice some activity in the building late this year.

Ambulatory Care Center Curb Ramps

UCSF will soon begin a project to make the curb ramps at our Ambulatory Care Center (ACC) compliant with current requirements of the American with Disabilities Act (ADA). Due to the nature of the work and heavy pedestrian traffic at the ACC, some of the work needs to take place on weekends. We anticipate that construction will start in late December or early January, depending on weather, and is expected to last three to four months. Any noisy work occurring on Saturdays will start after 9 a.m.; we will notify the community of any high-impact work through our email listserv. If you would like to join our email list for neighborhood updates, contact me at Lily.Wong3@ucsf.edu.

Please save the date for the next Parnassus community meeting: February 7, 2018 at 6:30 p.m. at Faculty Alumni House. For more information about our projects, visit community.ucsf.edu. Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have questions, or have issues you want to see addressed.
