

Pulse Today

Essential news for the UCSF community. For more, visit pulse.ucsf.edu »

Joe Biden Visits UCSF to Speak About Cancer Moonshot

Black History Month 2016: Reflecting on the Impact of Race

Computing for the Cure: Finding Cancer's Hidden Weaknesses

Teach-In with Soledad O'Brien Spurs Dialogue About Injustice

UCSF In The News

New Gene Discovery Could Lead To Earlier Lyme Test And Diagnosis

Forbes | Using RNA sequencing, infectious disease specialist Charles Chiu, MD, PhD, found a genetic signature in white blood cells that could be used to diagnose Lyme Disease.

S.F. Startup Lully Aims To Help Parents Calm Kids' Night Terrors

SFGate | Pediatric neurologist Jessica Litwin, MD, weighs in on new tool to soothe children's night terrors.

Campus Announcements

Webcast of Open Plan Workspace Town Hall: Watch UCSF leaders discuss their findings on open plan workspaces and how these discoveries will influence future planning. Watch »

Submissions Due for Chancellor Awards: If a colleague has excelled in public service, university service or university management, make sure they're recognized for their good work. Nominations due by March 1. Read more »

Increased Traffic Expected in Mission Bay: On March 8, Kaiser Permanente will open a new medical office building across from the Rutter Center. Employees should allow more time for their daily commute. Read more »

Upcoming Events

'Carry The One' Podcast Bake Sale

March 2, 2016

Kids' Safety Workshop for UCSF Families

March 5, 2016

Bay Area Diabetes Summit

March 13, 2016

More upcoming events...

GRAD
SLAM
2016

LIVE
March 10th
4:00 pm
$5,250 in prizes